Editorial

Between these covers lie the thoughts and feelings of over seven hundred people. These people are all successful in their own way. Whether they have topped their class or been successful in sports or whether they have led an active club, each person should feel some sense of accomplishment.

This year our Hermes is filled with many new faces. Not only do they include the grade nine students but also many others who have transferred their home to Kingsville. We bid our new K.D.H.S.'rs a hearty welcome and we hope you have enjoyed your first year in the halls of this school. We hope that you have found the atmosphere at Kingsville studious yet enjoyable. Another group of people who are new to our school are some of the faculty members. We would like to thank them for their attempt at educating our sometimes mixed-up minds.

We have had a successful year and we hope they will be even more successful in the future.

We, the editors, would like to thank our hard-working staff and also all the people who helped us behind the scenes. We feel it has been an enjoyable task and we would like to thank everyone for his co-operation.

The $2,600,000 vocational training addition at the Kingsville District High School was officially opened last Thursday night. Among those taking part in the ceremonies attend by some 800 persons, left to right: S. W. Leightizer, vice-principal; L. E. Goyette, principal; G. L. Duffin, assistance deputy minister of education for Ontario; Hugh Lee, chairman of the Leamington-Kingsville District High School Board; Mayor Fred De Santis, of Kingsville.

Principal's Message

L.E. Goyette

Ten years from now you may suddenly come across this book in some forgotten corner. You will discover that the editors very ably recorded in words and pictures a significant part of your life.

You will have only dim recollections of the factual information which you acquired in your school experience. It is, however, my hope that the attitudes to learning and living which you developed in K.D.H.S. will have assisted you to reach some of the goals to which you aspired in 1968.

This year, as we opened our new composite school, we have passed into an era of great change. I am proud of the manner in which the staff and students have responded to this challenge.

Your education has not been successful if you have not learned to find value in the past or how to create your own values for the future. For those of you who are impatient to move more quickly in discarding false values or those who would cling too firmly to the security of the past, I would ask you to consider the words of Alfred Whitehead - "There can be no change without order, nor order without change".

My congratulations to the staff of "Hermes" and to the students whose names and records of achievement appear between its covers.

Vice-Principal's Message

The publication of the school year book marks more surely than any other event in the school calendar the passing of another school year. It has been a big year and, I hope you will agree, a good year. Big in the sense that the school doubled in size from one year to the next with consequent adjustments in all phases of its operation. Good in the sense that nearly all concerned exerted an extra effort to ensure that the adjustments occurred smoothly and painlessly.

I feel I must comment that, unfortunately, there are those among us who miss the whole idea of what school, and life, is all about. Fortunately, though, they are a minority and may they always be so.

I wish our graduates continued success in their studies and in all things.

Finally, congratulations and thanks to the Editors and their staff for a wonderful memento of 1967-68.

S.W. Leightizer

Dedication

To Change and Progress

This past year has been one of change for all at K.D.H.S. Whether former students or welcomed new arrivals, all became part of the new K.D.H.S. last fall. The transition was taken in stride by everyone in spite of a few delays in construction. By now everybody is aware of the many and varied educational opportunities available to him.

Change is the keynote, not only here, but in almost every field of endeavour. Rapid advances in science and technology are now taken for granted. During this school year, a transplant of a human heart occurred. This event, more than any other in recent times has made the public aware that progress must be coupled with responsibility, for it gave us a glimpse of what man may be able to do in the years ahead. Many changes are in store for us all in the future. Change based on clear thinking and sound judgement rarely will be bad; change merely for the sake of change rarely will be good.

"The old order" will change "yielding place to the new". The future belongs to those capable of instituting the good changes and to those versatile enough to adapt to the new situations that will inevitably arise.

9A

What would it be like if the people in 9A suddenly decided to change their way of life. Here are some possible suggestions and the most likely reactions.

What would happen IF

Mary Aalbers grew another inch? She wouldn't be able to get in the school.
Pauls Baker could dance better. The boys would not have sore toes.
Kest Baltrusaitis wasn't such a hustler? Girls would go out of style.
Michael Boekhoven went mod. The rest of us would go square.
Kelly Brown ran out of jokes? The world would be in a depression.
Linda Capogna had her tongue cut out? There would be no such word as gossip.
Cheryl Collins could play basketball decently? We wouldn't lose so much.
Vickie Cowan sang like Robert Goulet? People would get suspicious.
Patty DeSantis roared at the teacher? You would have a class of stunned kids.
Bonnie Dummer didn't argue with Mr. Gignac so much? We'd have a whole period of nothing but English.
Nathan Hamm was given a kleenex? He would probably eat it.
Michael Keller got a nose job? He wouldn't hit people when he turned his head.
Janet Lyman interviewed Sophia Loren? Nothing
Don MacLeod took LSD? Nothing, he'd remain in the same state as he always is (dreaming)
Rick Newland got a black eye? It would be an improvement.
Peter Post said he was hatched? We'd finally know why he had played the Flying Nun, in the school play.
Martin Prinsen used two cans of ban? Nothing much.
Linda Roelens kept the same boy friend for longer than a week? We'd probably know his name at the most.
Faye Russel saw Twiggy? She would think that English boys don't get fed.
George Salmoni started an argument with Linda Capogna? World War III
Mary Sharp became an unactive nun? Impossible....
Wade Sharp would move to the back of the room and let Carol Walls sit by Linda Capogna? Mr. Gignac would probably say no.
Betty Ann Simmers grew up to look like her mother? Her father would get mighty confused at times.
Jackie Slater won the weight lifting contest in 1969? No surprise.

"Through the keyhole of 10F"

Throughout the year of 67-68, I have had the privilege of examining my fellow students. To my knowledge these are some of the interesting characteristics which they have displayed.

To The Gents Concerned:

LEGS-(ain't they pretty) Bob Moody may be Kingsville's future track star.

SMILE-Harvey Ryersee (Could you tell me your secret) Does Pepsodent put Pizazz in your smile?

MOUTH-Rick Nagorsen always seems to have troubles with Mr. Hungler (I wonder why???)

HAIR-Bob Miscoi (Please get your golden locks cut; your making the girls jealous)

CAR-Greg Noble (lets not use it during school hours)

LAWRENCE WELK'S FUTURE TUBA PLAYER-Dennis Ouellette (let it all come out)

DANCING-Bill Lane (say do you still keep up with your tap-dancing?) It might come back into style one of these fine days.

PHYSIQUE-Alen Merrit has the nicest broad shoulders which are most handy when he doesn't know the answer to one of Mr. Meuser's English questions.

INTELLIGENCE-Maurice Pestowka (brains, brains, brains)

EYES-Eddie Impens "baby blue eyes" (I wonder if that's what attracted MaryInne to be his sitter)

FUTURE MILKMAN-Doug Wallace (say how's Bey; the waitress at the Dairy)

To The Ladies Concerned:

SMILE-Bonnie Brown (maybe next time when we get our pictures taken)

HAIR-Martha Branch (did you have more fun when you were a blond?)

CLOTHES-Donna Moore has recently received her ban uniform (see you on PARADE!)

DANCER-Marilyn Klesh has displayed her dancing ability during our P.E. classes (she appears to be puppet on a string)

CAR-Beware of Wendy Williams (she's now on wheels)

WIM & VIGOUR-Edith Deman seems to know all the latest news around

DRIVER ED.-Helen Chortos is noted for her high mark in D. E. (maybe we'll get the answer next year-???)

AFFECTION-Caron Knight just loves Bookkeeping ("her Bible" as Mr. Mordowanec would say)

SKIPPING-Joanne Tultz (too bad she does have a rope)

This concludes our class for 67-68

Valedictory

Portions From The Valedictory Address

Fellow Graduates, Ladies and Gentlemen,
It is very difficult for me to express the sentiments of the graduating class in leaving this school. I'm sure that all of us on this stage have our own personal feelings concerning what we liked and disliked about K.D.H.S. and what we will consider worth remembering. I feel quite confident, however, in expressing on behalf of us all our thanks to the teachers and principals who have taught and guided us for the past five years.

Certainly every new generation has said that theirs was the critical one that would change the course of history, but there can be little doubt that the second half of the twentieth century is either going to make or break mankind as we now know it. The reason is very simple and basic - namely that technology is increasing at so rapid a rate that there is a great possibility that man is not going to be able to adjust with the result that he will lose control of his own destiny.

Let us all, therefore, do our part so that thirty years from now when many of us gather to see our children graduate from this school, we can all say that we had a share in seeing that the best parts of our heritage have been preserved and that the challenges of the future have gone a long way in being met.

So until thirty years from now, goodbye K.D.H.S. we wish you well in providing good education for your future students as you have so ably and faithfully provided it for us.

Educational

Cruises

Last summer Jo-Anne McLean and I were very fortunate to be among the five hundred Canadian high school students who went on an Educational European Cruise. The programme is sponsored by the Candian School Ship Association whose aim is to give students the opportunity for a better understanding of other lands and peoples. After arriving by plane at the port of Tilbury near London, we boarded our "floating school", the S.S. Nevasa. On board were students from France and the British Isles as well as high school teachers acting as chaperones and party leaders. Between visits to the ports of call there were classes and lectures covering all aspects of our visit to the next port. After class there was swimming, deck games and many voluntary activities such as a navigation class and an international quiz. The five weeks spent travelling with European students gave us a wonderful opportunity for international friendship and understanding. On our cruise we visited Scotland, England, Denmark, Sweden, Belgium, Soviet Union, Spain, Portugal and Gibraltar. In every port we enjoyed guided tours, special performances and free time to shop or see something which especially interested us. Meeting the people and getting an insight into their way of life was not only a rich experience but a living geography lesson. The programme was a great success and plans for future cruises are already underway.

MOCK ELECTION

The Current Affairs Club held a mock election and assembly in October in which the three candidates Mr. Patterson, Liberal, and Mr. Robson, Conservative and Mr. Blais, N.D.P., came to the school and delivered political speeches to the students. The students elected Mr. Patterson with Mr. Robson, second and Mr. Blais, third.

Margaret Mulcaster

LITERARY

REFUGE

She was lying on his shoulder when they found her,
Her fair hair trailing down her back;
Her fingers were tangled in her tresses,
His dark arms protecting to the last.

They were buried in the meadow the next evening-
This was to have been their wedding night-
Safe in death from knowledge of the answer;
"Will our baby be black or white?"

Sandy Bogart

WAR

War---people are dying,
Mothers are crying;
There is No stopping
That damning and killing red war.

Sue Upcott

THE LAST WORDS

A mild breeze swept through her hair,
So lovely to him--so very fair.
He loved this girl so very much--
He tingled at her very touch.
To make her his was his one desire,
A wife to love and always admire.
He took her hand and held it tight,
Then whispered to her early that night,
"Be mine, my love, be mine forever,
I need you now, to be my treasure."
Her soft hand touched his trembling cheek,
She was so special, so sweet and meek,
"I love you darling--I need you so.
My answer to you could never be 'no'."
He smiled with joy, a tear in his eye,
Then looking upwards to the sky,
He thanked the Lord upon that night
For all he had--for it was right.

A short drive home was all it took
To give their future a grim, grim look.
A car came racing down the street,
A bunch of kids all high in fleet.
They swerved and hit the other car
And landed in the ditch afar.
No one stirred upon that night--
No one saw the morning's light.
Death came fast, and Death came sure,
But Death can't end that love so pure.
For though they're gone, they're still together,
They'll share their love for always and ever.
Whether on earth or up above,
No man can take away their love.

AUTUMN

Fall has come to the northland;
Frost has touched the quivering maple leaf,
Forcing it to betray its natural green
And turn to the radiant colours of the spectrum.

The gusty autumn winds sweep slowly
Down upon the maple shaded meadows,
A mornful sigh is heard in the small groves
As if to announce, the end of summer.

Vern Seaton, 11F

MR. QUERIE

Hey, mister, what cha doin' ?
Gonna solve all your problems
With a red button someday.
Nuclear bombs and holocaust
Just as far as the next second off.

Hey, mister, what cha sayin' ?
Race riots and H. Rap Brown,
Blood and hate in every town,
Stinkin' gutters full of vice,
And many things--not very nice.

Hey, mister, where ya goin' ?
Sterling simplicity forever last
And no one cares about the cost.
Oh! see today's insensitivity.
Life's but a mundane mockery.

Albie Nakashima

SUCCESS

That shining goal seems far away,
Yet nearer do we grow each day,
Each step we take will bring us close,
To that in life we value most.

Yet as we stride along life's road,
It's sometimes hard to bear the load,
However hard if often seems,
The load is lightened with faith and dreams.

And when our tomorrow becomes today,
With a feeling of pride we now may say:
"However hard it once had seemed,
It's finally ours as we had dreamed."

Dorothea Lottbrein

THE MAN WITH BOOZE IN HIS SHOES

There's a little old man with a swollen nose,
His nuclear breath so strong it glows,
A ghastly tongue and bloodshot eyes,
Gets "bombed", gets high, and away he flies.
He flies 'cause he's high? Some excuse!
It's because of the booze in his shoes!

He fights, with the "missus" and fusses and loses,
She doesn't like booze, on the amount that he uses!
She nags and she henpecks; our old man...he's losin'.
"You're not using my car to go out a-boozin'!"
If he can't take the car then he'll just have to fly!
He'll have to get high! He can't fly when he's dry!
Got to use enough booze to fly there and back
To his wife it's no joke - it's a well-known fact!
He flies cause he can't use the car? Some excuse!
It's because of the booze in his shoe!

Shoes filled with booze? To a wife that's bad news!
She can't hide it! It goes everywhere
That he goes. That's why it's there!
But shoes filled with booze are quite hard to use
So he drinks and he "flies" everywhere!

So the very next time that you can't spare a dime
And you're feeling the urge for a vacation,
Just whip out the ol' shoes, and fill them with booze,
And fly via Canadian Club to the Orient!

SENIOR GIRL'S VOLLEYBALL

The senior girls had a very successful year and brought to Kingsville both the E.C.S.S.A. and S.W.O.S.S.A. championships. At the start of the season they played exhibition games against the "A" schools rather unsuccessfully. But by the end of the season, in a rematch with one of the "A" teams, they defeated them. Under the guidance of Miss Leitch, practices were a combination of fun and hard work.

Dear Kingsville and Area Residents:

It is with great regret that we have decided to close Jackson's China Shop in Kingsville.

At this time, we would like to thank you for your wonderful patronage over these many years.

For those of you who are not acquainted with our main store in Leamington, please visit us.

We will continue to give you excellent service and will be pleased to handle any enquiries you might have.

Thank you again.
